- * Inspections - Some state inspection requirements use both government inspectors and 3rd party inspectors.
- * AZ provides public records of accidents only for trampoline court injuries
- * CA requirement to report equip malfunction applies only to portable rides
- * CO requires reporting of injuries, but only if the accident was caused by a ride malfunction or impairs the function of the ride/device.
- * DE inspection at each setup is for electrical only
- * IA, IL waterslides are regulated by a different agency under different rules (Dept. of Public Health)
- * KY Injuries must only be reported if they result from a ride/device failure
- * LA inflatables must be inspected at each setup, but the owner/operator can self-inspect if approved by the state
- * MD bungee jumping is prohibited by state law
- * MN only regulates inflatables at permanent indoor facilities open to the public
- * MO regulation of inflatables is restricted to slides > 20' high

* Inspections - Some state inspection requirements use both government inspectors and 3rd party inspectors.

* NC, WA waterslides are regulated by a different agency under different rules (Dept. of Public Health). PA splits oversight across 2 agencies.

* ND - No inspection frequency was specified in statute/regs; assume annual

* NV, SD, UT - Patron responsibility law applies only to amusement park rides, not carnival (portable) rides.

* NY - State law exempts rides/devices operated in NYC and other cities > 1 million people; accidents are investigated by a safety coordinator designated by the park/carnival

* OH - Re-inspection after accident vs. investigation

* SD - Fixed-site rides are exempt from inspection requirement; Portable rides are exempt from Patron Responsibility requirement

* WA - Inspection at each setup is for electrical only
